Announcement Letter October 2007

Dear Brethren:

Although this letter is being mailed to you after we have all returned from the Feast of Tabernacles, the entire writing and preparation was completed by the church office staff prior to our departure last month. Whereas in times past we may have eliminated altogether an October mailing from the schedule because of the Feast, we are providing this issue with hopes that you will appreciate having it to greet you soon after your return home.

We are all facing now the requirements of getting back into our regular routines at home and dealing with whatever challenges await since our absence. The hardest part is always going back into the world again after the high of picturing God's soon-coming Kingdom for eight days, especially when we realize it will be a whole year before our next opportunity to celebrate this wonderful Feast. But in spite of that challenge of mind because of the transition, how blessed are we to have experienced that foretaste, which the rest of the world cannot yet enjoy? We always have much for which to be thankful, even during this post-Feast period.

We are taking another opportunity this month to provide you with one of Mr. Raymond Cole's archived letters, which we hope you will find as relevant and helpful today as it was when first published. The enclosed letter is entitled, The Two Facets of Divine Revelation—Faith, the Essential Added Ingredient, and was first released in November, 1982. The inspiration of God's Holy Spirit is a timeless commodity, and those words inspired by God through His faithful ministers never go out of style.
