

Announcement Letter October 2019

Dear Brethren:

Very special greetings to you all, with our sincere prayers for your well-being during this inspiring Holy Day season. Your stalwart defense of God's Truth in your lives and your support for this little remnant body of believers is a continual blessing, and we thank you for your determination to overcome every obstacle and to keep your eyes fixed upon that soon-coming Kingdom of Jesus Christ. He is real, His promises are real, and those promises will surely come true very soon. Therefore, the sacrifices we make before Him in designated places around the globe will be a glory to that Great God, and by separating ourselves from the cares of this world for a time, it will help remind us of what really matters. We all need that spiritual rejuvenation. May God bless you in your travels as you step out in faith to commune with your Savior in those places where He has promised to meet you.

Years ago, it was common for the church to forgo sending an October issue of this monthly mailing because of the proximity to the autumn Feasts and the special challenges of meeting a publication deadline at that time. In recent years we have tried to overcome this challenge by re-releasing one of our many historical letters, providing valuable spiritual insight which is never outdated, and at the same time limiting the hours required for editing.

This month, we are enclosing a letter originally written by Mr. Jean Aviolat in October, 1984. We hope that it will be just as inspiring to you as it was for the original church audience more than thirty years ago.
